Explores forests, rivers and remote villages of the Amazon River and Rio Negro, a huge black-water tributary. Students experience the world’s most biodiverse region during a 10-day, boat-based expedition that embarks from Manaus, Brazil. This spring semester course (3 cr) teaches students about the ecology, geography, culture, history and conservation challenges of the Amazon.

For information, contact instructors:
Dr. Kirk Winemiller, WFSC  k-winemiller@tamu.edu
Dr. Leslie Winemiller, BIOL  lesliow@mail.bio.tamu.edu